

Discovery Nuts and Bolts Series

June 1, 15, and 29, 2021
1:00 EDT

Are boilerplate objections really necessary? What is structured data? Why should you have a deposition protocol, and what should it include? For antitrust practitioners, discovery takes up a significant amount of time and resources, and the nuances are complicated and ever changing. Our three-part series is designed to highlight the basics—a primer for newer attorneys just starting out—or a refresher for those more experienced. With plenty of opportunities to ask questions.
